WHITE LIGHT MOVES INTO NORTHERN IRELAND

White Light Skin Clinics are joining up with the House of Fraser to open a new Clinic in Northern Ireland.

It will form part of the ground-breaking new Victoria Square development and will open in March.

White Light Skin Clinics are the first in the United Kingdom to introduce US style non-invasive cosmetic procedures, skin treatments and beauty therapies. The philosophy of the new Belfast Clinic is that everyone can now have perfect skin.

The clinic will offer a range of fast and effective treatments that are based around Intense Pulsed Light (IPL). This is a revolutionary new therapy which uses a broad spectrum of light emitted in short pulses to gently treat a wide variety of conditions to bring proven long lasting results.

IPL has been proven to be effective for skin revitalisation, age spots, hyperpigmentation and sun damage; for facial red veins, rosacea and acne. It can also be used for other treatments such as a fast and long-term solution to hair reduction; waving goodbye to shaving or waxing has been described as a life-changing experience for men and women.

The new White Light Clinic will also offer a number of other treatments and therapies including in-depth skin analysis, skin peels, fillers and wrinkle relaxing treatments plus a range of advanced skin care and cosmetic products such as the exclusive SkinCeuticals skin care range and the mineral based Susan Posnick cosmetics.

The Clinic is staffed by fully qualified and highly experienced clinical practitioners and is fully registered by the Commission for Healthcare and Inspection.
